

WASHINGTON, SUNDAY, JANUARY 20, 1907.

Sale of R. & G. CorsetsWorth $1.00
to $3.00 for 69c

A sale of 25 dozen of these famous "R. & G." Corsets were closed out from the makers to sell at this little price because they are so-called "seconds." The imperfections are trivial—in fact, our careful inspection fails to disclose any faults that will affect their good wearing qualities.

Of Coutil and Batiste, with garters front and side. Dip hip, medium high bust and girdles.

They are perfectly fresh and clean—not soiled or mused.

All sizes in the lot from 18 to 30.

A Great Purchase of Men's Furnishings, Underwear, Etc.From the Fire Underwriter's Sale of Entire Stock of S. J.*Adler & Son of Baltimore, Md., at 33c and 50c on the Dollar.

THE news of this great sale is contained in the above headlines, and sets forth briefly yet clearly the facts. At the Fire Underwriter's Sale of the entire stock of S. J. Adler & Son, of Baltimore, Md., which occurred last week, we secured unparalleled bargains in new and up-to-date Men's Furnishings, Underwear, etc. The prices for which we bought this stock average 33 to 50 cents on the dollar—and beginning tomorrow morning we offer everything contained in our purchase at proportionate savings. Some of the goods are slightly damaged by smoke and water—some are not damaged at all. None are hurt enough to affect their good wearing qualities.
